

Lunarex application's terms of use

General

"Application" refers to software produced by Lunarex International, with which the user can remote control control and trail cameras with a mobile phone or other mobile device ("Purpose"). The Application may only be used for the Purpose.

When you install the Application and/or use it, you accept the Terms. If you do not accept the Terms, do not install the Application or continue using it.

Immaterial rights and licenses

All information related to the Application and design are the property of Lunarex International. All trademarks, copyrights, and other immaterial rights to the Application and related software code are the property of Lunarex International or its license issuers. Lunarex International grants the Application user global, non-exclusive, cancellable rights to use the Application for the Purpose specified in the "General" section.

Terms

The User of third parties operating on the User's behalf are not allowed to make or distribute copies of the Application or to duplicate, convert, modify, model, disassemble, move, change or translate the Application or create any kinds of derivatives of it.

The Application is free to use. However, Lunarex International reserves the right to, at any time and for any reason whatsoever, to improve the Application or make it unavailable or charge a fee for the Application or other services rendered according to the Terms.

The User accepts the fact that the User's mobile network operator's contract terms still remain valid when the user uses the Application. Therefore, the mobile network operator may charge fees from the user for the use of network connection services, on the basis of the time spent on using the Application, the number of sent text messages, or other charge basis. If the user is not themselves responsible for the bill of the mobile phone or other mobile phone, the user confirms that they have the bill payer's permission to use the Application.

Availability

This Application is available for mobile devices with Android OS. The User accepts the fact that the Application is only available through mobile networks, so its quality and availability may be affected by factors that are outside the influence of Lunarex International.

Lunarex International is not responsible for any indirect or direct damage caused by the Application's insufficient availability or usability. Lunarex International is not responsible for any support or maintenance related to the Application.

Damage liability limitation and disclaimer

Lunarex International is not responsible for any indirect or direct damage caused by Application use, malfunction or insufficient or defective operations. The Application is delivered "as is" and no warranty is given.
